Sharing by LIVE Dance Students with Georgie Goater

Body of Places

Welcome to our 6th Wednesday of being together.

For a couple of hours each week since February, we have been listening to the body's movement and playing with how we respond to each other.

As the light has gotten brighter and our Spring schedules fuller, we've been landing in movement practices that pull you into the present.

Lightness and play have followed us all the way.

Play with choice, the space, imagination and place, resting in time, and with words like egg and spine.

Non-serious dancing, serious play.

Mapping out the score to abandon a rule or four.

To trust in the process, and be willing to be surprised.

To be with the emerging landscape, and to be seen.

Thank you ...

Friends and guests, for coming to witness these wonderful people share their movement practices and to be seen. To Hanna Heino for all your translation and generosity in the space together. To Hanna-Leena Markkanen for your generous spirit and support. To Jasmiina Sipilä for welcoming this opportunity for me to engage with these brilliant students - I am so grateful to you. And THANK YOU ALL dear students for your beautiful work!

This process has been part of Georgie's artistic work supported by Taike.

I would like to acknowledge my embodied history and recent work with Kaaos Company as influencers of my practice.
